General Information

In general, California tax law conforms to the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) as of January 1, 1998. However, there are continuing differences between California and federal tax law. California has not conformed to the changes made to the IRC by the federal Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Restructuring and Reform Act of 1998 (Public Law 105-206) and the Tax and Trade Relief Extension Act of 1998 (Public Law 105-277). In general, follow the federal Form 1041-A instructions.

A Purpose — Use Form 541-A to report the charitable information required by R&TC Section 18635.

Do not attach Form 541-A to Form 541.

B Who Must File — A trustee must file a calendar year Form 541-A for a trust that claims a charitable or other deduction under IRC Section 642(c) or for a charitable or split-interest trust. However, Form 541-A is not required for any taxable year if the trustee is required by the terms of the governing instrument and applicable local law to distribute currently all of the income of the trust for such year.

A charitable trust is a trust which:

- Is not exempt from taxation under R&TC Section 23701d; and

- Has all the unexpired interests devoted to charitable purposes described in IRC Section 170(c); and
- Had a charitable contribution deduction allowed for all the unexpired interests under the R&TC.

Simple trusts which received a letter from the Franchise Tax Board (FTB) granting exemption from tax under R&TC Section 23701d, are considered to be corporations for tax purposes. They may be required to file Form 199, California Exempt Organization Annual Information Return. See the instructions for that form.

Nonexempt charitable trusts, described in IRC Section 4947(a)(1) must file Form 199.

A split-interest trust is a trust which:

- Is not exempt from taxation under R&TC Section 23701d; and
- Has some of the unexpired interests devoted to one or more charitable purposes described in IRC Section 170(c); and
- Has amounts in trust for which a charitable contributions deduction was allowed under the R&TC. Pooled income funds (IRC Section 642(c)(5)), charitable remainder annuity trusts (IRC Section 664(d)(1)) and remainder unitrusts (IRC Section 664(d)(2)) are considered split-interest trusts for which the trustee must file Form 541-A for the taxable year.

C When to File — File Form 541-A on or before April 15, 1999. However, if you need additional time to file, California grants an automatic six month extension. No request form is required to obtain this extension.

D Where to File — Mail Form 541-A to:

PO BOX 942840
SACRAMENTO CA 94240-0000

Specific Instructions

Part II and Part III — The purpose for which charitable disbursements were made from income set aside in prior taxable years and amounts paid out of principal for charitable purposes should be described in detail in an attached statement. Examples of appropriate descriptions are: payments for nursing service, for laboratory construction, for fellowships or for assistance to indigent families (not simply charitable, educational, religious or scientific).

Part IV — If the balance sheet does not agree with the books of account, all differences must be reconciled in an attached statement.
